

<http://e-flt.nus.edu.sg/>

Electronic Journal of Foreign Language Teaching
2009, Vol. 6, No. 2, pp. 223–224
© Centre for Language Studies
National University of Singapore

Contributors to this issue

Andreou, Georgia

Georgia Andreou is an Associate Professor of Linguistics in the Department of Special Education at the University of Thessaly. She is the author of the book “Language: Theoretical and Methodological Approach” (in Greek). She has published a lot of articles in refereed Greek and international journals. Her scientific interests include Bilingualism, Teaching Modern Greek as a foreign language and Neurolinguistics.

Brandl, Klaus

Klaus Brandl, Ph.D., is Assistant Professor of Applied Linguistics and the director of the German language program in the Department of Germanics at the University of Washington. His research interests include language teaching methodology, teacher training, and technology. His work has been published in major journals such as the Modern Language Journal, the Foreign Language Annals, and Language Learning & Instruction. He is also the author of several computer programs. His latest book, entitled Communicative Language Teaching in Action, was published by Pearson Prentice Hall in 2008.

Chamot, Anna Uhl

Anna Uhl Chamot, Professor of Secondary Education (ESL and Foreign Language Education) at The George Washington University, conducts research on second and foreign language learning and has authored books and articles on language learning strategies. She holds a Ph.D. in ESL and Applied Linguistics from the University of Texas at Austin

Galantomos, Ioannis

Ioannis Galantomos is a lecturer on contract in the Department of Special Education at the University of Thessaly and in the Department of Language, Literature and Culture of the Black Sea Countries at the Democritus University of Thrace. His main area of interest is teaching Modern Greek as a foreign language with an emphasis on figurative vocabulary.

Genovese, Bruna

Bruna Genovese is a Master of Education candidate at The George Washington University. She has been teaching Spanish language classes at independent schools in the Washington, DC area since 2005. She holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Vassar College in Hispanic Studies with a concentration in American Politics.

Hsu, Wenhua

Dr. Wenhua Hsu is currently teaching at I-Shou University in southern Taiwan. She received her Doctorate in the field of ESP from University of Essex, U.K. and her Master of Business Administration from Kansas State University, U.S.A. Her research interests are English for business purposes teaching, lexical coverage and academic vocabulary. She can be contacted at whh@isu.edu.tw.

Kaewpet, Chamnong

Chamnong Kaewpet received her D.Ed. degree from the University of Melbourne, Australia. She is currently working at the Department of Western Languages, Faculty of Liberal Arts, Rajamangala University of Technology Krungthep, Thailand. Her research interests include learner needs analysis, curriculum development, English for engineering, self-directed learning, and students' argumentative essays.

Nadarajan, Shanthi

Shanthi Nadarajan is a language lecturer at Universiti Malaysia Sarawak. She received her Doctorate in Second Language Acquisition and Teaching from the University of Arizona. Her research interest is in the teaching and learning of second and third languages.

Ruiz, Cristina Gonzalez

Cristina Gonzalez Ruiz works as the Spanish Language Coordinator and a lecturer at Nanyang Technological University in Singapore. Her academic interests include autonomy in language learning, self-access language learning and language learner strategies.

Shen, Ming-Yueh

Ming-Yueh Shen holds a Ph.D. in TESOL and is an associate professor at the Department of Applied Foreign Languages of National Formosa University in Taiwan. She teaches reading, listening, English Composition, English reading and vocabulary. Her research interests focus on developing reading/writing literacy, vocabulary acquisition, and reading strategies instruction for EFL learners.

Wu, Wei-Shi

Wei-Shi Wu holds a Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction with Emphasis on TESOL. He is a full-time assistant professor in the Department of Applied Foreign Languages at the Formosa University in Taiwan. He teaches Foreign Language Teaching Theory, Introduction to Linguistics, English Composition and English Conversation.

Yang, Chi Cheung Ruby

Chi Cheung Ruby Yang is Teaching Fellow at the Department of English, The Hong Kong Institute of Education. She obtained her Bachelor of Education, Master of Education and Master of Arts in Applied Linguistics at the University of Hong Kong. Her research interests include classroom discourse analysis, second language teaching and learning, integration of information technology in the ESL classroom, and gender issues in education.