

<http://e-flt.nus.edu.sg/>

Electronic Journal of Foreign Language Teaching
2011, Vol. 8, Supp. 1, pp. 399–401
© Centre for Language Studies
National University of Singapore

Contributors to this Issue

Chan, Wai Meng

Wai Meng Chan is an Associate Professor and Director of the Centre for Language Studies at the National University of Singapore. His research currently focuses on metacognition, language learning motivation, and the application of new technologies in language learning. He has published a book, several edited books as well as numerous book chapters and journal articles in these fields. He sits on the editorial boards of international journals published in Japan and Germany. In addition, he is Editor of the book series “Studies on Second and Foreign Language Education” published by De Gruyter Mouton.

Chi, Seo Won

Seo Won Chi received her M.Ed. degree in Teaching Korean as a Foreign Language from Kyung Hee University. Her research interests are in the study of errors made by Korean language learners in their essays or compositions, and in materials development. She is currently focusing on research into the learning motivation of Korean language learners in Singapore, and audio and video podcasting in foreign language learning.

Chin, Kwee Nyet

Associate Professor Kwee Nyet Chin (Ph.D.) is currently Deputy Director and Convenor of the Chinese Language Programme at the Centre for Language Studies of the National University of Singapore. Her research interests focus on Chinese language teaching and new technologies in language learning, sociolinguistics in the context of Singapore, and second language acquisition.

Friedlander, Peter

Peter Friedlander is Senior Lecturer in Hindi language and Buddhist Studies in the Asian Studies Program at the School of Social Sciences at La Trobe University in Melbourne. He is involved in research and teaching on Hindi language, literatures and South Asian religious traditions, Buddhism and translation studies. His recent publications include: “Tagore, Kabir and Underhill,” in Seminar, 623, July 2011, New Delhi; “Before Translation” in Translation in Asia, Ronit Ricci & Jan Van Der Putten (Eds.), St Jerome, 2011; “The Body and World in Buddhism”, in Medicine, Religion, and the Body, Elizabeth Burns Coleman & Kevin White (Eds.), Leiden (2010).

Hayes, Carol

Dr. Carol Hayes is a Senior Lecturer in Japanese language and literature studies in the Japan Centre, within the School of Culture, History and Language, College of the Asia and the Pacific at the Australian National University. She teaches both Japanese language and courses about Japan in English ranging from literature to culture and film. Her research explores such themes as cultural identity in modern and contemporary Japanese literature and eLearning and Japanese language acquisition. Her recent publications include “Eikokuken ni okeru Hagiwara Saktuarō: Sono shijinzō to hyōka” (Representations of Hagiwara Sakutarō: the poet and his work in the English speaking world), Gendaishi Techō, Tokyo: Shinchosha, 2011; and “Kuroki Kazuo’s Requiem for War” in Roman Rosenbaum and Yasuko Claremont (Ed.), Legacies of the Asia-Pacific War: The Yakeato Generation, New York: Routledge, 2011.

Ho, Gia Anh Le

Gia Anh Le Ho teaches Vietnamese at the Centre for Language Studies, NUS. Prior to joining NUS, she worked as a Lecturer of English in Hanoi. She obtained her Master of Applied Linguistics from the University of Melbourne, Australia. Her research interests include second language acquisition, curriculum development and cross-cultural communication.

Indrianti

Indrianti is an instructor of Indonesian language at the Centre for Language Studies at NUS. She received a B.Ed. in English Education from Sanata Dharma University and an Ed.M. in Teaching English as a Second Language (TESOL) from Boston University.

Ishihara, Shunichi

Dr Shunichi Ishihara is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Linguistics, at the Australian National University, specialising in intonational modelling, forensic speaker comparison, CALL and speech & language processing. He teaches various (Japanese) linguistics courses and all levels of Japanese language courses. He is an executive member of the Australasian Speech Science and Technology Association.

Istanto, Johanna W.

Johanna W. Istanto is the Convenor of the Bahasa Indonesia Programme at the Centre for Language Studies, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, National University of Singapore, since 2003. She coordinates the teaching and learning process for all undergraduate modules, ranging from elementary to advanced levels. She is also involved in the development of the Bahasa Indonesia Program courseware, which can be viewed at <http://courseware.nus.edu.sg/IM@BIP/lesson.htm>. The latest development for the online materials is the Pelangi Bahasa Indonesia Podcast, which can be viewed at <http://courseware.nus.edu.sg/IM%40bip/podcast/LAB1201/pelangi.htm>.

Lin, Chiung Yao

Chiung Yao Lin is a lecturer in the Chinese Language Programme of the Centre for Language Studies, NUS. She received M.A. degrees from the NUS and California State University. Her research interests are in teaching Chinese as a foreign language, Chinese characters teaching and learning, computer assisted language learning, and materials development.

Quinn, George

George Quinn is Adjunct Professor and Visiting Fellow in the College of Asia and the Pacific at the Australian National University. His main publications are The Novel in Javanese (1992) and The Learners Dictionary of Today's Indonesian (2001). Currently he is completing a book on sacred sites and local pilgrimage in Java and Madura and is working on an English translation of the Javanese-language novel Ibu (Mother, 1980) by Poerwadhie Atmodihardjo. When completed, this will be the first English translation of a Javanese-language novel.

Tsukada, Kimiko

Dr Kimiko Tsukada is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of International Studies at Macquarie University. Her research interests include experimental phonetics, cross-language speech production/perception, and second language speech learning. She has been conducting phonetic research with individuals from various language backgrounds such as Arabic, Cantonese, English, Japanese, Korean, Malayalam, Mandarin, Norwegian, Persian, Thai and Vietnamese.

Tsurutani, Chiharu

Dr Chiharu Tsurutani is a Senior Lecturer in the School of Languages and Linguistics at Griffith University. She has expertise in second language phonetics and phonology, and has published extensively in her research area, including a book titled “Pronunciation and rhythm of Japanese as a second language (2008, Keisuisha)”. She is currently working on intelligibility of foreign accent in terms of prosody and its measurement.

Walker, Izumi

Izumi Walker is Assistant Director of the Centre for Language Studies and Convenor of the Japanese Language Program at the Centre for Language Studies, NUS. She received a PhD in Japanese Applied Linguistics from Waseda University, Tokyo, and an MSc degree in Applied Linguistics from Edinburgh University, UK. Her current research interests are in the pedagogy of “Taigu Communication” and Business Japanese, and the use of media materials for language education. Her publications include “Cambridge Grammar in Use: Intermediate” (Cambridge University Press), and “Teaching Taigu Communication: Noticing ‘Speech Styles’ ” (3A Network).